

Cookies

Cookies are small pieces of data that are downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website or application. Passwords are not kept in cookies. Cookies allow users to keep the memory of their personal settings to access a website and facilitate their browsing, but also to obtain statistics. If you do not wish us to use "cookies" you can use the option on your browser which makes cookies unavailable (see "The setting of your cookies" below).

Unless you decide to disable cookies, you agree that the website may use them. You may at any time disable these cookies for free from the deactivation possibilities offered to you and mentioned below. You must be aware that this may reduce or preclude accessibility to all or to parts of the services offered by the Wheat Initiative website.

Strictly necessary cookies :

Some cookies are strictly necessary for the proper functioning of the website. This is the list of cookies needed to use the Wheat Initiative website. Without them, services that you've asked for can't be provided. These functional cookies are deposited by the website.
