

Coordinating global research for wheat

NAME OF EXPERT WORKING GROUP :
Wheat Phenotyping to support Wheat Improvement
DATE OF THE MEETING	16/12/2016
LOCATION/ONLINE	CIMMYT, Texcoco, Mexico

AGENDA
9:00	1. Welcome 1.1. General housekeeping 1.2. Tour de table
9:30	2. Summary of previous meetings 2.1. EWG meeting in Barcelona 2.2. Frankfurt at Jamboree 2.3. Expectations of Wheat Initiative from EWGs
10:15	3. EWG Action Plan 3.1. What are key objectives for coming years? (Funding, white paper, expert database, regional networks, visits,...) 3.2. What should we be targeting with limited time and funds? 3.3. How can we become more effective?
11:00	Morning Tea
11:30	Ctd. EWG Action Plan :Actions list
	Lunch (with Phenotyping EWG)
1:30	4. Joint meeting with Abiotic Stress EWG 4.1. How can we work together? 4.2. What are key traits of interest? 4.3. What protocols need to be developed? How can they best be disseminated?
2:30	5. Scope for joint grant application 5.1. Can we develop a proposal for ICC consideration?
3 :30	6. Scope for joint activities: regional networks, workshops, etc.
4 :15	7. Next EWG meeting (Phenotyping) – Tulln, Austria, April 2017 8. Next EWG meeting (AWAS) – Tulln, Austria, April 2017

LIST OF PARTICIPANTS

Jose-Luis Araus, University of Barcelona, Spain

Bettina Berger, University of Adelaide, Australian Plant Phenomics Facility, Australia

Elisa Liras, Bayer, France

Eric Ober, National Institute of Agriculture Botany (NIAB), UK

Trevor Garnett, University of Adelaide, Australian Plant Phenomics Facility, Australia

Gemma Molero, CIMMYT, Mexico

Michel Edmond Ghanem, ICARDA, Morocco

Hafeez ur Rehman, University of Agriculture Faisalabad, Pakistan

Mohamed Abdelkader Hasan, Plant Pathology Institute, Egypt

Roland Pierushka, Forschungszentrum Juelich, Germany

Ulrich Schurr, Forschungszentrum Juelich, Germany